

that you'd ever be in any kind of trouble. . . .

MS: STEVE and MR. HARMON. An incredibly difficult moment passes between them. STEVE searches his father's face, looking for the reassurance he has always seen there.

STEVE

How's Mom doing?

MR. HARMON

She's struggling. It's hard on all of us. I know it's hard on you.

I'll be okay.

STEVE puts his head down and begins to weep. MR. HARMON turns away, then reaches back and touches STEVE's hand. A GUARD crosses quickly and moves the father's hand away from his son.

MR. HARMON (choking with emotion)

Steve. It's going to be all right, son. It's going to be all right. You're going to be home again and it's going to be all right.

The scene blurs and darkens. There is the sound of STEVE's FATHER sobbing.
